POLICE CHIEF John Wessely, left, and Patrolman Bill Smith examine a contract which a resident unfortunately signed before it was thoroughly read and checked. The Chief issued a warning to residents urging they ask to see police permits from all transient, door-to-door salesmen before even listening to their pitches. He also suggested that references, sponsors, and local merchants be consulted before making any purchase.

Police Chief Warns of New Salesman Rackets

"Read that contract before signing and know who you are dealing with," Police Chief John Wessely warned this week in connection with a rash of complaints about slick -lipped door -to -door salesmen who are operating in Upland, offering magazine plans, music lessons, sewing machines and a number of other schemes.

"We are interested in protecting the honest solicitor and the Upland resident," the Chief added. "As the holiday season approaches, there will be an increase in the tempo of solicitation, and the local purchase should take certain precautions before buying anything from transient salesmen.

"Be certain they have a permit from the police department if they are selling anything, including magazines. But all perennial salesmen should be checked for identification and addresses," Wessely said. "Don't be rushed into buying anything before you can check on their references, and compare the offered prices with our local merchants. In most cases, the buyer will find they can do as well or better by buying from Upland merchants."

No Bargains

Wessely went on to explain that there are seldom such great bargains being offered that a purchaser doesn't have time or opportunity to compare and see that the merchandise is available locally. In one case last week, a pair of bunco artists were selling foreign made sewing machines for about $175, when the same machines were available $25 to $50.

"There are, of course, many legitimate solicitors who carry permits from the City and offer valuable goods and services but a few are no more than bunco artists and must always be guarded against.

Patrolman Bill Smith, who is Upland's business license control officer, pointed out that the police are helpless to take action after a contract has been signed. "It then becomes a civil matter," Smith said. "Always read all of the contract, and be sure it is completely filled out. Never sign in blank as you leave yourself wide open for trouble, if you do.

"If the salesman claims that his plan is being sponsored by the schools, a service club or other organization, take time to check it out before you buy anthing, or sign any papers," Smith said.

"Some have been offering musical lessons and including the purchase of instruments in the contract," the police officer explained. "In most cases these instruments are available locally, and there is no need to sign for a series of lessons with a stranger. The honest salesmen welcome a check of their sponsors and backgrounds. But the crooks will flee the scene when you ask for references," he continued.

Smith also warned that some salesmen ask for a part payment in cash, and the rest by check. "Don't ever pay anything in cash unless you are completely satisfied with the honesty of the salesman," he said. "And when you pay by check make it out to the company, not in the name of the salesman as you may find the check is cashed locally and the salesman has skipped town."

There will be great many of these transient salesmen, both officers warned. Upland residents should ask for a police permit, or city business license, check the references, and never sign a contract until you are satisfied you have made a real good buy which the Upland merchants can't duplicate.

Candidates Explain Views

PHIL HOLDEN — Born in Upland in 1921 and attended local schools, including Chaffey College. He served 39 months with the Coast Guard during the years of 1942-45. Started to work for the Ontario Water Company in 1950, and has been manager since 1955. Holden was elected to City Council in 1958.

Bob Walline, Phil Holden Vie for Chino Water Basin Directorships

As a public service, The NEWS has submitted a series of questions to Phil Holden and Bob Walline, candidates for a seat on the Board of Directors for the Chino Basin Muncipal Water District, an election which will take place in November. With each question, the answers from the men have been printed as received by this newspaper. A biographical sketch of each man provides background —The Editor.

1. Are you in favor of Prop. 1, the proposal to bring water from Northern California to Southern California? Why?

Phil Holden answers: Considering Southern California as a whole, additional supplemental water must be obtained if our economy is to continue to grow. In the Northern Water Plan as presented, there are a number of inequities which I feel should be resolved and set election. Some of these are such important points as distribution of construction cicoess, amount of water, of delivery, and who shall have the right to determine the location of these delivery points. At the time of this writing, many of these points are being negotiated by the MWD and the State Department of Water Resources. If the important differences between these two agencies are not resolved before the election, I will definitely not support the water bonds. Even if these differences are resolved before election, I am not completely sold on the water plan for reasons stated in my article on water which appears elsewhere in this issue of the News.

Bob Walline answers: At the moment I must withhold my acceptance or rejection of Proposition No. 1. In light of the numerous uncertainties about how much Northern water Southern California will be guaranteed, I feel that on the best interests of the Upland Area I must join the Metropolitan Water District in their stand of non-acceptance on this point. I do not feel that a personal promise is sufficient on such a vital issue. To me it seems amiss that the Feasibility Report on the Bond issue has not been issued by the state, for without it one cannot apply any sound judgment to the dollar and cent side of the issue.

2. What are the greatest problems facing the local Chino Basin Municipal Water Districtb

Phil Holden answers: I feel that the greatest problem to be faced is the protection of our present water supply and the establishment of underground water rights. A thorough study of this matter should be made to determine if adjudication and replenishment are the proper solution. All facts regarding the ground water supply in the Chino Basin should be thoroughly understood.

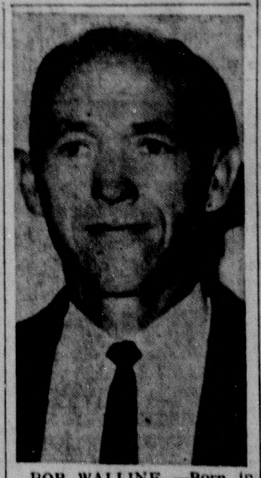

Bob Walline answers: There is one basic problem facing the Chino Basin Municipal Water District — the plan of operation and policy. There must be a plan, that will include all phases of the District's operation from public relations and sales, to research studies on basin conditions and future water requirements for the District. The geographical location of our District, its' development potential and wide variety of land use demands that such a program be instituted.

3. How do you propose to solve these problems?

Phil Holden answers: Space will not permit a detailed explanation, but the first step would be to determine the average annual overdraft of local ground water and if a replenishment program is indicated, to explore the methods of financing and organization of a replenishment district. In a replenishment program, MWD water available during the winter months would be poured into the underground basins to raise the water table and make more economical pumping the following summer.

Adjudication of an underground basin is the determinspecific amount of water that can be pumped from each well without creating an over draft of the basin. This is a long and costly court procedure, but in my opinion would be very much to our advantage in the Upland

BOB WALLINE —Born in the District during 1921, and attended local schools and later the universities of Hawaii and Arizona. Served three years as a combat pilot over China during WWII. Has been general manager for six water companies in the area as well as having exand water conservation work. Walline holds no other public office.

Opposition To Route C Reaffirmed

Because of the proximity of proposed freeway route C to three school sites, the Board of Trustees of the Chaffey Union High School District passed a strongly worded resolution against the plan and ordered it sent to State Highway officials in Sacramento.

As presently proposed the Route C would pass by the Alta Loma, the 6th & Vineyard, and southeast Ontario sites and the Trustees consider this a hazard to the students in the area.

Route C was endorsed by the City of Upland when Highway engineers held a public hearing on the matter Oct. 13th. (One comment was made that the use of Route C would split the Red Hill district away from Cucamonga.)

Unofficially, some others observed that the suggestion might be in order to delay any freeway construction until some action had been taken on the DeVore cut-off, another highway project to expedit a traffic through this area. There was no mention of the DeVore cut-off in the official resolution, however.

The highway plans has caused a good deal of controversy among various organizations, even though no construction on the north-south route is likely for 10 years.

In addition to the Trustees, the Cucamonga Chamber of Commerce, the Improvement Association and the City of Ontario have all protested Route C, even though that plan appears to be the cheapest and best in economic factors.

FLOOD CONTROL CONTRACT LET

A $58,966 contract to build the San Antonio Heights flood control channel above Upland was awarded to T. M. Page, this week.

The channel will carry flood waters from the Frankish and Marble Canyons to the Cucamonga flood control channel.

The project is being completed on an emergency basis, according to a statement from the county engineers, because of the flood hazard created this summer by the Anderson burn.

Entire cost of the project is estimated at $120,000.

FIREMEN DOUSE BRUSH BLAZE

Upland firemen quickly extinguished a brush fire on Saturday in a wash near Foothill and Campus.

Firemen said they thought the blaze, which was doused before any damage had occurred, had been started by youngsters playing with a road flare.

Death Stalks Highways Over Weekend; 3 Dead

William Wasson, county probation officer, has been appointed referee in traffic matters and will make disposition of them at his offices 201 N. 1st Ave. in Upland.

Previously traffic offenders had been cited to appear in Ontario Municipal Court, or disposition made by the juvenile bureau.

But from, now on it will be done at home.

New Advertisement Breaks Precedent

There is a Camel Cigarette advertisement in this week's newspaper, placed by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

This is "news" because it represents a major change of policy for no tobacco company has been advertising in weekly newspapers.

"break-through" in recognizing the readership and importance of the weekly newspaper in local communities.

The weekly newspaper — and there are nearly 10,000 of them in the United States —serve their local communities as no other medium can.

The Camel advertisement this week, and the next one to appear in two weeks, are being placed in weeklies throughout the country.

To reach "the people", Camel has broken tradition and for the first time now will reach everyone in our circulation area.

Death stalked the Upland area highways when three people, two youngsters and an adult, died as a result of traffic crashes over the weekend.

Sunday afternoon an Upland woman suffered fatal injuries when a car driven by her husband was involved in a collision with another car at Mission and Vine. Three others were injured in this crash.

Dead was Mrs Rhoda Boswell, 63, of 569 San Antonio Place, who died approximately two hours after the accident in the San Antonio Hospital.

Injured were her husband, James T. Boswell, 65, of the same address, who was treated for head lacerations.

Versal Boswell Sheppard, 46, who was treated for chest and other injuries, and whose condition was then described as fair by San Antonio Hospital officials.

Also injured was Cassa M. Pruett, 21, of Ontario, who sustained face, chest and mouth injuries and was taken to Pomona Valley Hospital.

Officers said that Boswell was cited for failure to yield the right of way to through traffic.

In the second local tragedy, two San Clemente children were killed in a grinding crash when their father's car collided with another at Arrow Hgy and Haven Ave.

Dead were Sheri Dawn Miller, aged 13 months, and her brother Richard Miller, jr, aged six weeks, who succumbed a short time after the fatal crash.

Both of the parents Richard and Helen Miller suffered serious injuries in the accident which demolished both of the cars that were involved.

Driver of the other car, Michael Leyva, 44, of 8904 Rochester Ave. miraculously escaped with only minor injuries.

Miller, whose residence was given as 153 Victoria St. San Clemente, was cited by officers for making a rolling stop on Haven Ave. and pulling into the path of the car driven by Leyva.

Unique Meet Planned for November 14th

Unique in the history of the Chaffey Union High School District will be the joint meeting of school officials, planners, architects, educators and others to be held Nov. 14 at Chaffey College.

The decision was made Monday night by the Board of Trustees in connection fourth high school in the district, a plant which is expected to cost about 3½ millions.

Discussion is expected to center around the various initial fees involved, the letting of contracts, the overall plan in tempo with the latest educational methods, and a variety of other subjects incident to planning for the new school.

Such wide - scale consultation has never been tried before in this district, but educators believe it will result in a large saving for the taxpayers.

The gathering will be a dinner meeting.

Haldeman and Kistinger in Votes of 'No'

In a sharp vote split, the Upland City Council divided on a long-standing zoning issue which involved 220 acres of prime land.

Acting on a petition of Mike Kelber, real estate developer, only 20 acres of the land involved was rezoned from A1A to A1B. The property is that area lying north of 16th and between San Antonio and Euclid Aves.

Voting in favor of the zone change were councilmen Holden, Leman, and Marriott. Dissenting were councilmen Kistinger and Haldeman, the mayor.

First Petition

When Kelber first petitioned for the change which asks for a minimu of 15,000 square feet per lot instead of 20,000 square feet as in R1A, a storm of protest arose which has existed to the present. Kelber, in addressing the council Tuesday night, said that he had a petition circulated which indicated that residents were then in favor of the subdividing into the smaller lots, and he had greed to a "buffer zone" of E$A lots which abutted those similarly zoned on Laurel Ave. north of 16th St.

W. E. Walk Jr., as spokesman for property owners presently opposing the zoning change, took te position that zoning of the entire area to R-1B at present would be a mistake, holding that action should be delayed until owners of citrus land are ready to subdivide.

Walk expressed the opinion that Ontario and a number of other communities "have missed the boat" by failure to reserve greater areas for finer homes. "You can't go up after you have once gone down," he declared.

An Error

Holding that rezoning of the entire area at this time would be an error, since it would boost taxes for many owners of citrus property, Councilman Bob Marriott moved to grant Kelber R-1B zoning on 20 acres of his land on the north side of 16th St. and that the balance remain as presently zoned, either R-1A or A-1.

Kistinger pointed out that property owners of the area had petitioned for the change and questioned the opinion of Mariott that it would boost taxes for citrus land owners. He expressed the belief that no change would be made in assessed valuations before the property was developed.

Throng Seen for School Board Meeting

A capacity crowd is expected to attend the meeting of the Upland Elementary School Board of Trustees when they meet tonight, Thursday, Oct. 20th in the Upland Elementary School, 601 N. 5th Ave, at 7:30 p.m.

Public interest has been running high since the Trustees voted to reconsider the rental of church facilities for use as additional classrooms within the school district.

A vocal group of about 80 parents attended the last meeting protesting such a plan because of the attendent reshuffling of school childden in the school system.

The matter has been the subject of several meetings, ever since the parents from the Sierra Vista school protested. When the Board of Trustees agreed to secure church property, there was no protest but another group appeared when the actual change-over plan was put in operation. It was this group which submitted petitions both oral and written that influenced the Board to reconsider its church rental plans.

Huge Area of Tax Free Land Reported

San Bernardino County has $45.16 million of the $1,546,147,000 in tax-free land in the state this year, the state Board of Equalization said today.

The statewide total represents a gain of $73.5 million over 1959.

The property in the county includes 523 churches valued at $5,555,000; two colleges, valued at $2,225,000; 170 welfare properties valued at $4,043,000 and 34,250 Veteran's properties valued at $33,337,000.

One dollar of each $17 in assessed value in California will be exempted from taxes under one form of exemption or another, the Board of Equalization said.

Approximately two-thirds of the total exempt property was held by 1,169,000 veterans.

Assessed value of the veterans' properties totaled almost $1 billion.

Qualified veterans have $1,000 deducted from their total assessed value before taxes are levied with the average veteran's exemption amounting to $842.

The average veteran would save approximately $61 in taxes a year, board officials disclosed.

The tax saving could run from just a few dollars to as much as $120 because of variations in tax rates and in the amounts of personal property owned by veterans, officials disclosed.

The board disclosed that the number of qualifying veterans was 26,300 fewer than in 1959, the first time in almost 20 years that there has been a decrease.

Second largest segment of exempt values are those of welfare properties, accounting for one-sixth of the total. The 3,566 properties in this category had a total value of $247 million.

Competition Opens for Scholarships

Senior students in the high schools of San Bernardino County are eligible to compete for the 100 four-year scholarships offered by General Motors under its National Scholarship Plan, according to Roy C. Hill, Superintendent, San Bernardino County Schools.

The competition is open to young men or young women who are high school seniors and United States citizens. Interested students must make application for both the GM National Scholarship and the Scholastic Aptitude Test of College Boards.

At least one GM award is made in each state, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. In addition 48 winners are chosen at large. High school seniors awarded scholarships under the GM National Scholarship Plan may attend any accredited college or university and pursue any course of study.

More than 100 students are now attending 86 colleges and universities under the Plan, initiated in 1955. Their career objectives include engineering, medicine, law, the sciences, journalism, teaching, and other worthwhile fields.

Selection of award winners in the GM National Plan is made by a group of leading educators representing various parts of the country.

Full details of the competition, including the registration dates for the S.A.T. examination, are available from the principal in each school or from Mr. Gerald D. Baughman, San Bernardino County Schools.

Additional Opportunities

General Motors offers other scholarship opportunities. Under its College Plan 304 four-year college scholarships are awarded annually by 181 colleges and universities located in 50 states and the District of Columbia. A list of the participating colleges may be obtained from the principal's office. Selection of award winners under the College Plan is made by the respective colleges and universities. Students wishing to be considered under this plan should apply directly to the college of their choice. Awards under both plans range from $200 to $2,000 per year depending on the student's needs.

UHS Battles Bellflower to Tie Game

The UHS eleven and the Bellflower HS squad clashed in a 13-13 tie game on the Highland Field last Friday night. Although the Highlanders won the first half, the Bucs came back in the second half to even up the score.

A run by Junior Bob Whitlock to the three yard line set up the first Upland touchdown. The pigskin was then carried to the one foot line from where Ted Stipe carried it over the end line. The PAT was made by quarterback Jim Wilcox. The second TD was a result of a pass from Wilcox to Lou Schmutz which put the ball again on the one foot line. Stipe crossed the end line a second time to make the score 13-0 at the half. The only fumble of the game was made by Bellflower and recovered by Upland's Bruce Funk.

The Bucs first touchdown was made with 10 seconds remaining in the 3rd quarter. their PAT being successful. Their second was made in the last quarter. Outstanding Buccaneers were Lenstrom and Hillman.

Singled out by Coach Harley Lovit were Joe Baie Dave Bangle, Mike Christensen, Loren Miller, and Clark Corpe, all linemen. Whitlock who averaged 11 yds. per carry in seven carries was selected as Player of the Week.

UHS recorded ten first down, two in the air, one by penalty, and seven by rushing. Bellflower had 14 firs' downs, two on passes, one on a penalty, and eleven by rushing.

The Highland Bee's lost their game at Bellflower by a score of 12-6. The varsity will open league competition tomorrow on their home field hosting Corona at 8 p.m.

Twenty Two Residents End Course

Twenty-two residents of Upland, Ontario, Cucamonga, Pomona, Montclair, La Verne, Covina and Fontana recently completed an American Red Cross first aid class, according to Raymond Chandler, instructor for the West San Bernardino County chapter.

In addition, three Montclair policemen, Tom Jordan, David W. Martin and Jim Richardson, are expected to complete requirements shortly.

For Chandler it was the 57th class taught since he began work with the chapter 10 years ago. The recent class brought to 667 the total number of those earning certificates in his classes.

Classwork included field trips, an ambulance inspection and practice with a resuscitator. The students also inspected the Civil Defense truck.

From Upland: Tom Davis, Erik Ennerberg, Virgina J. Kalin, Ricardo Lucero, Kenneth J. Potter and Otto Webb.

Ontario students completing the course include: Thane E. Atherstone, John Blackher, Paul A. Clark, Harold R. Lamaster, Done E. Lee, Ralph Stover, George B. Taunton and Fred Taunton.

Professor in Club Speech

Members of the Fontana Exchange Club heard Dr. Edwin F. Klotz, Chaffey College Spanish professor, in a discussion of the cultural unity of Hispanic nations recently.

Dr. Klotz's talk, entitled "The Day of The Race", considered two major questions: Of what does Hispanic unity consist: how significant a unifying force is it? Applying these tests to the Cuban situation, Klotz said, "The test in Cuba will be a test of the strength and reality of the Hispanic ideal. It will be a choice between the university of Hispanism, or that preached by Communism."

Klotz quoted the Foreign Minister of Peru as saying: "The unity of twenty hispanic nations with Spain does not exist by reason of material empire, but as a result of the Empire of Reason".

Klotz quoted agreements between Spain and several Latin American countries granting citizens dual citizenship. He also noted that the Philippines now require the teaching of Spanish in elementary schools and that Spain is becoming an increasingly important source of small machinery like sewing machines, motorcycles, etc.

Nearly 400 Camp Fire Girls in West End Area

There are nearly 400 members of the Camp Fire Girls in Upland, Montclair and Ontario, The News was informed this week.

The region, called the Chaffey District, is one of seven that comprise the Mt San Antonio Council of 7,146 members in the area from the San Gabriel River east through Upland, and bordering cities.

Although one of the newer agencies of the United Fund, the local Camp Fire Girls had a council operating in Ontario back in 1927. However, the interest seems to have died down, and only recently has been revived.

The Camp Fire Girls are the oldest girls group in America. They were founded in 1910 by Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick and some prominent educators.

Girls between seven and 17 are included in the organization, which includes the Blue Birds for ages seven to nine; Camp Fire irls for ages 10 to 13 and the Horizon Clubs for teen-age girls.

Camp Fire Girls are open to all girls regardless of race, creed or color. The Mt. San Antonio Council operates a summer camp at Barton Flats where 799 girls vacationed last summer.

"Character is formed predominately during leisure hours" is the theme of Camp Fire Girls, based on Dr. Gulick's philosophy.

Bob Walline answers: These problems can only be solved by the Board of Directors of the Chino Basin Municipal Water District. They must accept the challenge and assume their logical position as the leader in the future planning and development of our District's water security.

It is my hope that the two new Directors who will join the Board in January, will add to the Board the extra initiative necessary to recognize this challenge.

4. What other specific changes will you seek in the general operation of the District if elected?

Phil Holden answers: In the past, the CBMWD has carried on its office staff full time, a secretary, a draftsman, and two civil engineers, one as general manager, and one as assistant, all salaries combined being about $2,200.00 per month. This was probably justified during the planning and construction of the feeder lines, but the construction program is nearing completion now, and in my opinion, a full time engineer and draftsman are no longer necessary. The only office staff necessary is a manager and a secretary.

Bob Walline answers: Other than a closer understanding and following of the procedures of management, I would suggest a more definite purpose for the District's member on the Metropolitan Water District Board of Directors. I would seem that there should be planned objectives by the District and that the Board give their Metropolitan Water District Director the support required to achieve these gains and savings for the District. One other thought would be for the District to speak out on related issues and take a stand upon any program or issue that in any way will effect the future of the District.

5. Who, or what kind of a person, will you support for the position of general manager to replace the retiring GM?

Phil Holden answers: As a new general manager, I favor some one with practical experience in water company management and operatio This man need not be an engineer. Occasional engineering work can be done by outside engineering firms more economically than if a full time engineer is maintained. I believe such a program would save over $1000.00 per month.

Bob Walline answers: Here again, is where a Chino Basin Municipal Water District Master Plan would pay dividends. The projects and purpose of the plan would reveal the type of individual necessary to best serve the District. However, without such a planned program the Board certainly should re-evaluate the position of General Manager and establish experience requirements and salary schedule and then follow the normal procedure of advertising for application followed by interview and selection.

6. What changes, it any, do you suggest for the Chino feeder line installation?

Phil Holden answers: Had I been on the Board at the time the Chino feeder line was being planned, I would have opposed its construction because there were not enough water sales to make the line pay its way. It would be impractical to make any changes now because the contracts have been signed and the project is under construction at the present time.

Bob Walline answers: The Chino feder line is under construction and there is little that can be said except to base future purchases and District improvements on realistic studies and not on hopeful promises. The development of sales and contracted deliveries should be part of the master plan.

7. Detail your position on whether or not Rialto should be admitted into the District?

Phil Holden answers: There are two ways to look at this question. Enough extra capacity was built into the Fontana feeder line to supply Rialto if they wish to join us. They would bring extra assessed value with them and would help out on our expenses. On the other side, if our allotment of Colorado water is seriously reduced by Arizona's suit, then we haven't any water to spare for Rialto or any one else. At the moment, I am undecided.

Bob Walline answers: I do not believe that Rialto should be admitted into the District. The Chino Basin Municipal Water District is almost an ideal geological formation for a water district in that it lies over one massive under- with secondary basins on the outer edges contributing to the primary Basin. The District has nothing to gain by going outside this natural gift and might acquire obligations that would prove a detriment to future development. But how can such a decision even be considered without a Master Plan?

8. Why should the people elect you instead of your opponent?

Phil Holden answers: An answer to this question borders on the discussion of personalities which I try to avoid. However, I think my experience in handling public affairs on the City Council, my ten years experience in water company work, and my recent studies of the over all water program might tip the scales in my favor. The voters will make the final decision on November 8.

Bob Walline answers: If everyone will make an honest comparison of the background qualifications of the two candidates for this office, I feel confident that it will then be obvious why I believe the voters of Division One (Upland Area) should elect me rather than my opponent.

I personally am opposed in principle — mainly because of the conflict of interests — to any man holding two elective offices simultaneously. I think it should be noted that my opponent has not seen fit to resign the elective public office which he now holds. It seems to me that inevitably my opponent will find himself in the position of having to represent both governmental agencies in negotiations with each other. No man can serve two masters. At this time I do not hold elective office.

had investigated the matter and recommended use of the Methodist Church facilities at a reported rental of $800 per told The News that the contracts had been signed but that statement later appeared to be in error.

Parents pointed out that their children would be required to make two moves, if the church property was used. Once into the church rooms then again when the Foothill Knolls school is completed, expected sometime in the Spring of 1961, and student reshuffling is required.

Some of these parents cited their failure to act because area newspapers did not fully inform them of school board activity — even though there have been several stories about this and other matters considered by the School board. They have appeared in The News and other newspapers.

One parent plaintively admitted that she had read the various stories but didn't realize that her child would be affected.

Jarvis Leman suggested that three representatives from each faction — for church rental and against it —be present at the meeting and state their views. Each speaker will be allowed five minutes, so as to limit the length and scope of debate.
